

Gonzalo Paz-Pardo

Directorate General Research
European Central Bank
20 Sonnemannstraße
60314 Frankfurt am Main
Germany

gonzalo.paz_pardo@ecb.europa.eu
<http://www.gonzalopazpardo.com>
Date of birth: 23.04.1991
Nationality: Spanish

Employment

Senior Economist, European Central Bank Macroeconomics, Monetary Policy Research Directorate General Research	2020-
--	-------

Education

PhD Economics, University College London Advisors: Mariacristina De Nardi and Richard Blundell	2014-2020
MRes Economics, University College London Graduated with Distinction. Dean's List 2015.	2014-2015
MSc Economics, University College London Graduated with Distinction	2013-2014
BSc Economics - A Coruña University (Spain). Graduated with Distinction. National Undergraduate Extraordinary Prize 2013	2009-2013

Research interests

Macroeconomics, Household Finance, Wealth Distribution, Earnings Risk, Housing

Published or forthcoming papers

Nonlinear Household Earnings Dynamics, Self-Insurance, and Welfare (joint with Mariacristina De Nardi and Giulio Fella) Journal of the European Economic Association, volume 18, issue 2, April 2020, pages 890-926.

An earlier, different version of the paper was circulated as 'The implications of richer earnings dynamics for consumption, wealth and welfare' (NBER working paper no. 2191, 2016).

Working papers

Homeownership and Portfolio Choice over the Generations

Family and Government Insurance: Wage, Earnings, and Income Risks in the Netherlands and the U.S. (joint with Mariacristina De Nardi, Giulio Fella, Marike Knoef, and Raun van Ooijen), NBER working paper no. 25832 (2019).

Work in progress

- Richer wage dynamics and redistribution in the UK (joint with Mariacristina de Nardi and Giulio Fella)
- How much wealth inequality with preference heterogeneity?

Awards and Grants

Teaching

UCL Education Award	2018
Economics PGTA award	2017
Nominated for Student Union awards, category ‘Exceptional Feedback’	2018
Nominated for Student Union awards	2017
ESRC 1+3 studentship	2014-2018
for the study of PhD Economics at University College London
Bank of Spain scholarship	2013-2014
for the study of MSc Economics at University College London

Research assistantships

Queen Mary University , for Prof. Giulio Fella	2018-2020
University College London , for Prof. Mariacristina De Nardi	2015-2018

Teaching experience

Advanced Macroeconomics , Graduate, UCL	2018-2019
Economics 1001 (CORE project), Undergraduate, UCL	2015-2018
Microeconomics for Policy , Graduate, UCL	2014-2015

Other teaching:

Analysis of Panel Data . Graduate workshop, A Coruña University	April 2016-2019
Economics of the Labor Market

Guest lecturer for two sessions, Northwestern University

May 2016

Conferences and presentations

2020: Banca d'Italia, European Central Bank, Copenhagen Business School, University of British Columbia, Nova, Stockholm University, Banco de España, Banco de Portugal

2019: International Pension Workshop (Leiden), CINTIA Workshop on Household Expectations and Risks (Venice), Minneapolis Fed

2018: International Pension Workshop (Leiden, discussant), Bristol CORE workshop, Midwest Macro (Nashville), UPenn Macro Lunch, CEPR Household Heterogeneity in Macroeconomics Workshop (European Central Bank)

2017: International Pension Workshop (Leiden, discussant), Netspar (Dutch Central Bank)

2016: Chicago Fed, SAET (Rio), IIPF (Lake Tahoe), EALE (Ghent)

Refereeing

AEJ: Macroeconomics, Review of Economic Dynamics, Journal of Economic Theory, Journal of Population Economics

Languages and Computer Skills

Languages: Spanish, Galician (native), English (proficient), Italian (fluent), French, Portuguese (good), German (basic).

Computer skills: MATLAB, Stata, R, FORTRAN